PETERSBURG AND VICINITY.

Close of the Festival-An Enthusiastic and Inspiring Scene-Singular Frenk of Lightondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

May 30, 1884. The three days' Musical Festival closed last night with a splendid entertainment, in which all the artists, the orchestra, the various choral societies, and the united choruses were assigned numbers. The evening was one of much enjoyment, and aroused the greatest enthusiasm among the audience. Just before the closing piece three cheers were proposed for the orchestra, which were given. Then followed cheer after cheer for the orchestra cache of the several the solo artists, each of the several choral societies, and the musical direct-or-Dr. R. H. Palmer, of New York. Then followed twice three cheers for Mr. H. Noltenius, the manager of the Festival, to whose efforts are due in such eminent measure the success of the Festival. While the male portion of the audience cheered, the ladies clapped their hands and waved their handkerchiefs. There was a scene of unbounded enthusiasm, which it required some minutes to allay.

To-day many of the visitors left for their homes, all well pleased with their visit to Petersburg, and carrying with them plea-sant memories of the Festival occasion. Many ladies and gentlemen remain over, however, by special invitation, to attend a erman and reception to be given to-night n their honor.

Last night at a late hour the Lynchburg
"Glee Club" serenaded several of the ladies and gentlemen who took a prominent partin the Festival—among them Dr. Palmer, of New York; Mile. DeLussan, Mile. Amy Sherwin, and Mr. Noltenius.

It is understood that Rev. Peyton H. Hoge, of Richmond, has accepted the call to the pastoral charge of the Tabb-Street Presbyterian church, and that his letter will be read to the congregation on Sunday.

The Southside Albemarie Farmers' Club-Number of Topics Discussed. [Reported for the Dispatch.] SCOTTSVILLE, May 28, 1884.

The regular monthly meeting of the Southside Albemarie Farmers Club was held in their rooms in Scottsvilie to-day and brought together a good number of the most influential farmers of Albemarle, Buckingham, and adjoining counties.

The minutes of the South Ha reports that a Cairo from having been read and approved, a number of new members were elected.

The topic first considered was the bill respecting Texas fever and other cattle from the effect of their exposure. diseases which was passed by the last Legislature. It was explained that under its provisions twenty-five voters in any magisterial district could call upon the county judge to appoint three cattle inspectors, who would have power to stop and order to be slaughtered any cattle suspected of being infected with Texas fever, or liable repairs, and the missing silverware has to communicate the same; and it was considered that the powers given in the bill were sufficient, if properly carried out, to prevent the further enlargement of the area already infected permanently by the fearful

The farmers present unanimously exdone by the committee of the club in furthering the passage of the act by the Legislature. Petitions for several magisterial districts in Albemarle and Buckingham were placed on the table, and a good number of signatures appended.

The placing of fish-ladders in the James river was then briefly discussed, and several members expressed a wish that it might be within the scope of the opera-tions of the Club to get this matter considered by the next Legislature.

The improvement of the roads was next discussed, and the club took credit to itself for the active part taken in helping on the agitation of last winter which re sulted in the passage of another act of the Legislature which they sincerely hoped would in a short time give to the county of Albemarle better roads than were to be found in any county in the whole State.

would be let out by contract.

The James River Valley Fair, to take place next October, 8th, 9th, and 10th, at Scottsville, was then recommended to the notice of the members of the club, and it was earnestly urged from the Chair that they would give it even more attention than they did last year, as everything was being done that was possible for the ex-hibitors of stock in the way of accommo-dations and increased premiums. No doubt the Fair would tend to bring improved stock into the district, and aid in the work of progress apparent amongst us. It was desired that some more shares should be placed, and those present were called upon to get their friends to take them up. Grape-culture and wine-making also fur-ling to arrest them. Four moonshiners formished topics of the day's discussion. It tified themselves in a house, which was attacked by officers.
